About Me

I would describe myself as a hard working individual with always keeping my eyes on the target. From my many years as a professional athlete I have learnt to go above and beyond to help my team on achieving the goals set for us. Coming from the island of Chios and having a father who is a Captain it was somehow inevitable for me to not be in love with the sea. This is the reason I chose this line of work to be able to combine my passion and my skills in sector of Shipping industry. order to evolve as much as possible in the sector of Shipping industry.
